

PRIVACY POLICY

GENERAL

1. This privacy policy ("Policy") has been developed to explain how we collect, use and disclose personal information about you. Please note, defined terms in this Policy are as set out in our Website Terms of Use. Please read those Terms together with this Policy.
2. By accessing our Websites, or using our Products or Services, you are taken to have accepted the terms of this Policy and consented to the collection, use and disclosure of your personal information in accordance with its terms. Should you disagree with any aspect of this Policy, please stop accessing and using the relevant Websites, Products or Services.

COLLECTING PERSONAL INFORMATION

3. In order to provide products and services to you, and ensure that your use of our Websites, Products and Services is enjoyable, sometimes we need to collect personal information from you. This is information which identifies you. The types of information we collect are explained in detail below at paragraphs 5 to 10.
4. Situations where we may collect personal information from you include when you:
 - a. visit, use, or register to use, our Websites;
 - b. download, install, access or use our Products;
 - c. request or receive our Services, including registering for, or taking part in, training or events;
 - d. post Material on any forum or blog available on and/or through our Websites;
 - e. apply for a job with us, including by submitting your CV; and
 - f. contact us.

TYPES OF INFORMATION COLLECTED

5. We collect personal information that you supply and automatically collect some information each time you visit our Websites or use our Products. In all cases we will only collect your personal information through lawful means.

Personal information

6. When you visit our Websites or use our Products or Services, you may be asked to provide certain information. Where you provide any such information this is collected by us directly. The types of information which fall into this category include your name, email, address, username and phone number. While you do not have to provide your personal information to us, please note that failure to do so may mean that you are unable to access and utilise all functionality of our Websites, Products or Services.
7. You agree that we may retain personal information provided by you and associate any such personal information with any other information that has lawfully been gathered from other sources (for example, you consent to us associating and/or matching your personal information with information collected from third parties, including social media accounts, that you associate with the Websites).

Automatically collected information

8. We will automatically collect some information each time you visit our Websites or use our Products or Services. For example, we may automatically collect keywords you use to find us in search engines, the web pages you visit, the web browser you use, parts of the Websites, Products or Services accessed by you, access times and duration, your operating system and your IP address.
9. This information is collected when you visit without the need for you to submit this information yourself. It is usually anonymous, except where you have previously provided your personal information to us and have cookies enabled. As above, you agree that we may retain any such personal information, and associate and/or match it with other information lawfully obtained from third parties.

Sensitive permissions

10. With certain Products we may request “sensitive permissions” such as access to location services or camera capabilities on a mobile device. If you do not wish to provide such permissions please delete or uninstall the relevant Product. Any data collected via such permissions will be used in accordance with this Policy.

HOW WE USE YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

11. In general, any personal information collected by us is used to help us improve your experience of our Websites, Products and Services and enable us to conduct business with you.
12. You agree that we (along with our related companies, employees, officers, agents, contractors, affiliates, distributors and business partners) may use your personal information, including at the time it is collected, and to:
 - a. help us provide, administer and improve the Websites, Products and Services;
 - b. carry out Website and Product data analysis and research (including market research);
 - c. provide you with information about new Products, Services or Websites offered by us and/or our related companies, affiliates and business partners that we think might be of interest to you;
 - d. fulfil a trial, order or other Product or Service related activities including managing licensing entitlements;
 - e. send or deliver information, Products or Services to you (whether physically or by electronic means);
 - f. calculate and process invoices and payments for Products and Services purchased by you; and
 - g. communicate with you.

WILL WE DISCLOSE YOUR INFORMATION TO ANYONE ELSE?

13. Please note that we may aggregate and use any information that we collect from you, and that does not identify you, to help us better understand our customers and provide them with better Services and Products.
14. The nature of providing online products or services means that sometimes we may disclose your personal information to others. However, generally, we do not disclose information to third parties. We may in certain circumstances disclose your personal information:
 - a. to related companies, employees, officers, agents, contractors, distributors, affiliates and business partners and service providers for the purposes noted at paragraphs 12 and 13 above;
 - b. for the purposes of supporting the sale or transfer of all or part of our business or assets; and
 - c. when we believe, acting reasonably, that we are required to do so by law.
15. You consent to the disclosure of your personal information to the parties, and in the circumstances, listed above.

RETENTION, STORAGE AND SECURITY OF YOUR INFORMATION

16. Please be aware that information transmitted over the internet is inherently insecure and is susceptible to loss, interception or alteration while in transit. Information that we collect may be stored by us or on our behalf for as long as is reasonably necessary for the purposes outlined in this Policy. Information may be transferred to servers in jurisdictions other than the jurisdiction in which the information is collected. Information may be stored and processed by third party service providers including Marketo Inc., MS Dynamics, and PayPal Pte. Ltd (trading as Braintree).
17. We strive to protect your personal information. We will protect all personal information that we obtain in accordance with this privacy policy by taking appropriate physical, technical and organisational measures.

COOKIES

18. A cookie is a small data file that is stored by your web browser or your computer hard drive. Some cookies will only exist for the duration of your visit to our Websites, but some may remain present for a longer period for when you revisit our Websites.
19. We use cookies for a variety of reasons including helping us to understand aggregate and individual usage patterns of our Websites. For example, we may examine the pages that are visited and the files that are downloaded. The purpose of tracking user activity is to gain insights and provide a better experience for users.
20. In certain situations, the cookie may be linked to personal information that you have previously provided through our Websites. For example, your name and email in a web form. The data provided may be used to remember your preferences and personalise the content of our Websites, making it easier to find the information that you are looking for.
21. If you are concerned about cookies or want more information about them, you can visit aboutcookies.org. You have the ability from within your web browser's settings to control whether to accept all cookies, be notified of a cookie or refuse all cookies. Instructions about how to configure your web browser setting can be found on aboutcookies.org. If you decide to turn cookies off, please note that some areas of our Websites may not work properly.

22. By continuing to use our Websites without changing your settings, you consent to our use of cookies as described above.
